

Rob M. Henneveld
Managing Director
Global Automotive Consultancy

Before founding Global Automotive Consultancy, Rob Henneveld acquired in-depth knowledge and diversified automotive experience throughout the years. This developed into a well-balanced vision - a vision that also derives from exposure to various cultures from all corners of our world.

Thanks to this wealth of understanding and know-how, he is able to answer with you, the current questions and challenges that confront you within your own automotive community. Here his capacities vary as that of an independent Automotive Business Consultant, Trainer, Coach, Interim- and Project manager. He is also a regular contributor to a wide range of magazines in various countries throughout Europe.

